NAVOLCHI-WEB-Site

Common Information

KIT was engaged to implement a projects WEB-site on which the ideas of the project are published as well as to establish a common platform for the partners where useful information is gathered and shared. This WEB-site can be found on www.navolchi.eu. It was started immediately at the beginning of the project and is updated continuously.

The WEB-site will be kept open at least until end of 2016 and will not be closed afterwards until KIT intends to do so.

WEB-Masters, and therefore responsible for the site content are:

Martin Sommer
